Alumni meet news in Media

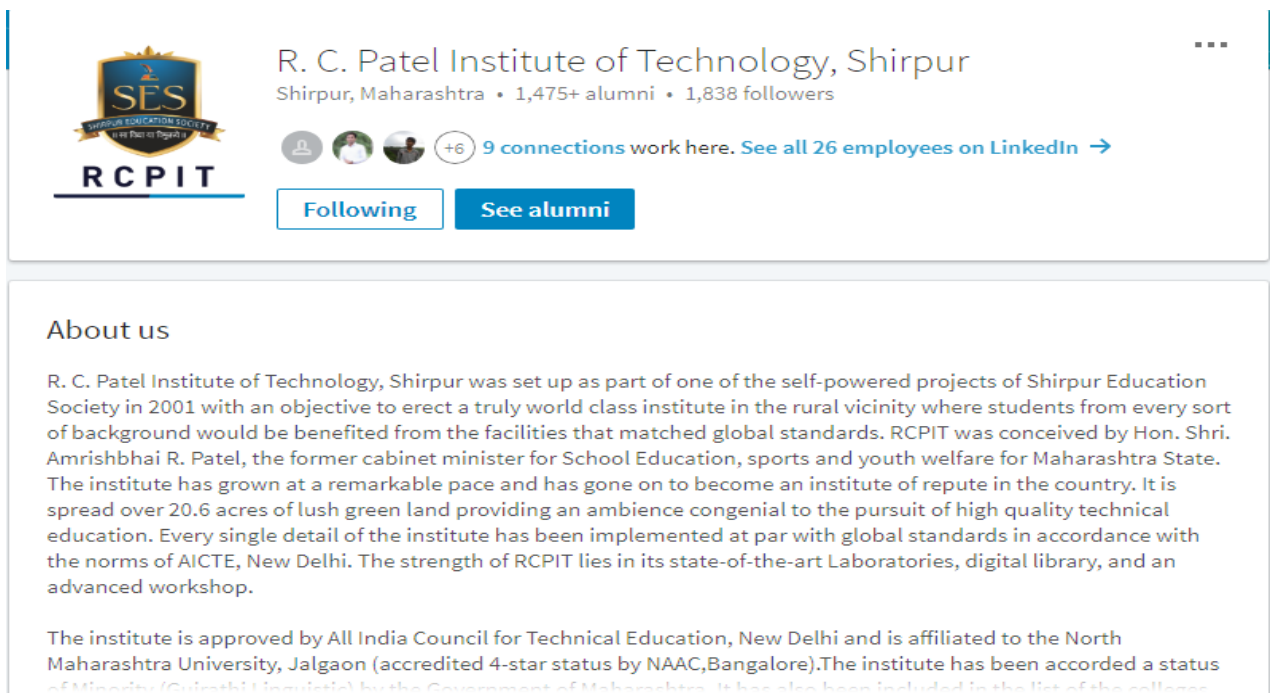

Alumni Contribution:-

1. Developing social media platforms:

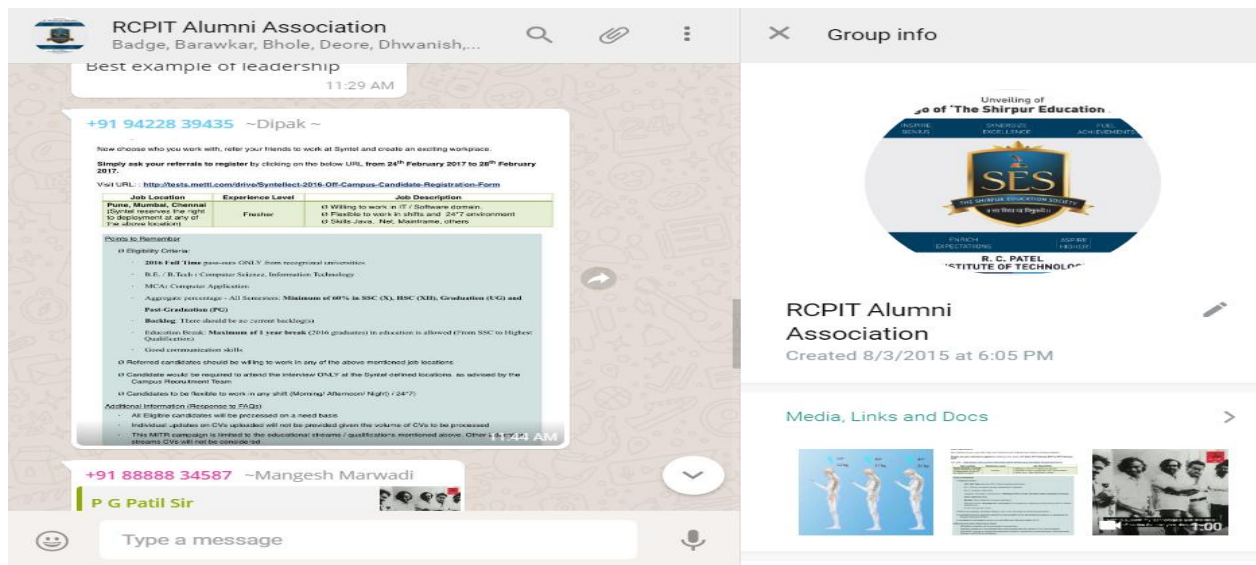

Alumni helps us to create Facebook page, LinkedIn page for more connects. Alumni also create whatsapp group for both India as well as abroad. Through this initiative institute has connected more alumni and got more helps. Through global alumni group, it is easy to get help or guidance for those students who want to pursue higher studies in abroad.

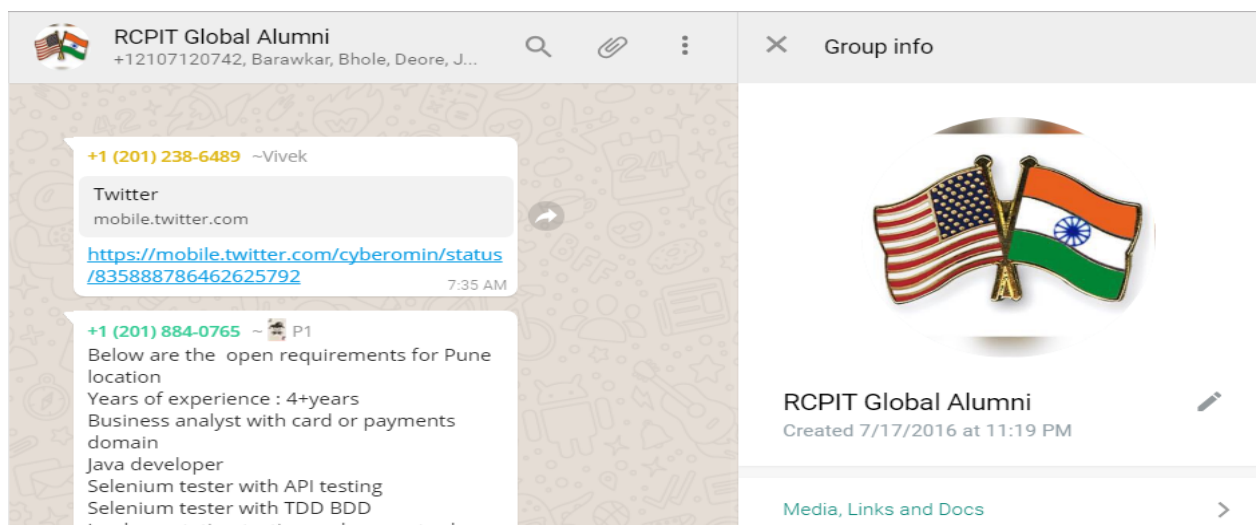

RCPIT Alumni Facebook Page

RCPIT Alumni LinkedIn Page

RCPIT Alumni Association Whatsapp Group

RCPIT Global Alumni Whatsapp Group

2. Alumni Mentorship:

RCPIT has big alumni networks and they are working in various fields in market. So we request them to share some real time projects on which they are working currently or small part of their project as a task to students. So that students get chance to know about what is happening in market.

These projects are mentored by Alumni itself. Students contact them on weekend through skype or phone call for queries and assessment. Student learns the working culture of industry, learn new technologies. Currently in E&TC department, 3 projects are under Alumni mentorship and students respond it very well. This initiative also bridges the gap between Alumni of college and students.

3. Alumni Support for Placements:

Our alumni help us to connect with industry. They help us to arrange meeting with HRs, information about off campus, also help in to connect and schedule recruitment drive at college campus. Few mails are enlisted which shows alumni's help and contribution in campus placement.

Subject: Re: Start up/MSME/SME – Hire-Train and Deploy Model - R.C.Patel Institute of Technology , Shirpur-Dhule (MS)

Hello Sir,

As per my knowledge, following are some suggestions:

1) Marketing & Promotion:

- Social Media Campaigns. Also invested in Pay per Click services. This is a form of online advertising that can generate additional web traffic.
- Use some toll like google analytic for how working professional are using and viewing data and site. By accessing this you can immediately come to know that which is more important data and site.

2) Student Learning:

- Use some browser based technologies such as google app and google+. It is useful tool for enabling staff and student to collaborate with one another.
- Use some online portals like Padlet; along this some more are great ways to communicate with peoples across the colleges and universities. It is very effective way of sharing of knowledge from different colleges and universities.
- Developing mobile version of the website to boost the recruitment process. Targeting student via this technology means they will able to find out the information and different course work and enroll for it and complete the course work from anywhere.

3) Staff Development:

- It is important for staff to feel comfortable experimenting with technology.
- Encourage staff at all levels to take ownership of their training and development.
- Encouraging our staff to work with industry patterns to help them really understand how technology is evolving in the workplace.

Thanks & Regards

Hi Milkesh Sir,

Yeah it is a good practice to build competency at college level.

The KPIT is started same program name as PACE and we were part of the same.

Once we started to work with any it firm it's all about the business of client hence it's very much important to learn some basic business flows and terms at academic level.

The only difficulty is with training syllabus(Bellow points need to be taken care in college premises training):

- To train student with required competency (eg oracle, java, testing).
- Implementation of competency in business cycle. (how the business is using competency to run their daily business flow eg SAP used in SCM orgs).
- Business awareness.

- Basics of industries, their flow, various departments in organization (It covered in academics but a small overview session will get students familiar with business).
- TandP dept must be completes SWOT analysis for each on premises training it will help students to gain more and eliminate future threats. (to ensure the current training is not just about syllabus)

3. Feedback from Amey

Dear Amey ,

Thanks for your acknowledgement. Let me clarify your doubts.

how the model work ? - 1) Companies will screen , evaluate and hire candidate with LOI (Conditional offer) (Time Period - July to Oct of academic)

2) then companies will suggest the training & their customised requirement of training (Time period if training - Dec - vacation or semester break) 3) College will arrange for such kind of training from Expert 4) After training - one more round of evaluation from company and then offer finally (April - May) 5) then joining of candidate in July.

Who will train them ? - Third party training company or agencies suggested by HR / Technical panel

How hiring will getting initiated ? - Updated in first point

How is this concerned with me ? - You connect us with your HRs / Technical Panel / Recruiters / Networks etc

Kindly confirm and reply.

Good Idea , but it's still unclear how the model work ? Who will train them ? How hiring will getting initiated ? How is this concerned with me ?

PS. Keep mail Ids in BCC else all the people will spam others by just apparition which add no value to motivation of mail.
